

Dear all,

I'll be doing a tour of the Sydney Gardens construction work on the 10th August, specifically for the wider members of the various residents associations.

Please could you forward the following event link to anyone within your Resident/ Housing Association that you think might be interested. This does also include members of the Friends of Sydney Gardens.

It won't be open to the wider public as there will be a maximum of 12 places. I'd be grateful if those of you who have been on a tour with me previously can refrain from booking, so that there is space available for people who have not yet seen progress on the ground.
